Mittal Publications, New Delhi, 1998. N.A. Book Condition: New. Xiv+412pp Following the fractured mandate of the 12th General Elections in India in March 1998 the BJP-led government replaced the 13-party coalition of the United Front. Section III surveys the programmes, activities, strategies and performance of 7 national and 169 State parties participated in the 12th General Elections. Section IV explains the background and circumstances leading to the politicisation of Women, Muslim and Dalit voters, the situation leading to the projection of Nehru-Gandhi family, and the use of the innovative means of campaigning. Section V deals with author's assessment of the 1998 verdict, the functioning of democracy in India and 100 days' experience of the new government. Section VI contains Appendices which...
